SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Celebrating its 45th Anniversary in 2026, Race Forward has worked to build community power and transforming institutions to create a just democratic society where all people have the opportunity to thrive. From the start, Race Forward's founder Gary Delgado was clear: Black and brown communities hold the key to solving the racial inequities in our systems that have long caused disparate impact to people and communities of color. We work to build capacity within communities and public institutions to leverage co-governance strategies and practices that center the voices and needs of communities of color in decision-making.

One key piece of Race Forward's work emerged in 2004 when we hosted our first conference dedicated to the racial justice movement: Facing Race. One of the most anticipated events in the racial justice community, Facing Race is the largest multiracial, inter-generational gathering for organizers, educators, creatives, and other leaders. This event convenes biennially in different US cities and typically brings together over 4,000 attendees from across the globe, all focused on mobilizing for a more equitable future.

Attendance at our last 4 conferences has exceeded 4,000.

In 2024, over 60% of our audience were people of color, over 75% were women, and approximately 60% were millennials. Additionally, we see a large number of first-time attendees at each conference.
